

Role of UN in peacekeeping

Position of Women in India compared to other nations.

Govt contribution to the telecom industry scams.

Effect of cinema on Youth

Education in India compared to Foreign nations

Environment-Whose Responsibility.

Should Hockey remain india's national game?

There can never be a classless society.

Beauty pageants are a marketing gimmick.

Habit and routine have an unbelievable power to waste and destroy

When all you have is a hammer everything looks like a nail

If you want peace, prepare for war

Patience is a bitter plant but it bears sweet fruit

Cursing the weather is bad farming

Morality is the creation of the weak to deter and limit the strong

Winning is what matters, whatever may be the cost

Education is a progressive way of discovering your ignorance

Great spirits face violent opposition from mediocre minds

Helping hands are better than praying lips

Necessity is the mother of all invention

Thinking about the worst prepares you for the worst

A closed mouth catches no flies

You don't have to be different to be good; but you have to be good to be different

If you give a man a fish, he eats it once. You teach a man to fish, you lose a business opportunity

A man with words and no deeds is like a garden full of weeds

For an idea to be accepted it has to be advertised by a good salesman

A permanent seat in the UN Security Council is neither necessary nor sufficient for India to become a world power

A university is what a college becomes when the faculty loses interest in teaching the students

In business, the rear view mirror is clearer than the windshield

True happiness can be got only when you make the others feel that they are responsible for it